Promising New Treatment for Macular Disease

For the past year, Valley Eye Associates has been offering Avastin injections for the treatment of wet macular degeneration, diabetic macular edema, and other forms of leakage and swelling in the macular area. Dr. James Syverud, who performs the injections, has found Avastin to be extremely helpful, since results of treatment with previous approaches had often been disappointing. Under treatment with Avastin, most eyes demonstrate stabilizing vision, with some patients showing dramatic improvement in the appearance of their macular disease.

For people with known or suspected macular disease, careful follow-up is extremely important in maintaining the best possible vision. If you have any questions regarding Avastin or other forms of treatment for macular disease, please contact Dr. Syverud for additional information.

Deluxe Implants Now Available for Medicare Patients

Valley Eye Associates is proud to announce that Medicare recipients, as well as those patients with Network Health Plan and United Health Care, can now upgrade to a Deluxe Intraocular Lens Implant at the time of their cataract surgery. Simplify your life with an advanced Prelex™ implant that lets you see near, far away and everywhere in-between.

Ask to see if Prelex™ sight restoration is right for you.

2007 Total Transformation
Sandra Wunderlich

Barb Burmeister of Valley Eye with the 2007 Total Transformation winner, Sandra Wunderlich at the Hollywood style reveal event held at the Fox Cities Performing Arts Center. Sandra had CK (Conductive Keratoplasty), which improves Sandra's ability to read without reading glasses. "It is wonderful not needing to wear the readers." Call our office for a free consultation to see if CK is right for you.

Dr. Vrabec Earns Re-certification in LASIK and Advanced Cataract Surgery

In 2002, Dr. Michael Vrabec underwent a rigorous certification process by the American Board of Eye Surgery for both cataract surgery and LASIK. He became the first surgeon in Wisconsin to earn this double board certification. This is a time-limited process, and in 2007, after an exhaustive review of patient results and technique, Dr. Vrabec was again re-certified for another five years. Congratulations Dr. Vrabec!
